Intense exercise dramatically increases the need for glutamine. While L-glutamine helps build and maintain muscles tissue, it also provides a major source of energy for the entire body, particularly the brain. L-glutamine performs a major role in DNA synthesis and supports the immune system. L-glutamine supports the natural production of growth hormone, which initiates the release of insulin growth factor (IGF-1) which can increase lean muscle mass and bone density.*

KREB'S CYCLE MINERAL COMPLEX-

For maximum energy production, increasing muscle stamina and reducing muscle recovery times.
